I have had no issues updating, even after I had to break down and reinstall my computer. I have Photoshop CS3 and was processing a 6,000 image batch of work in a hurry and then get the Adobe update. I had to reinstall after the Adobe update corrupted Photoshop CS3. I was able to get my Photoshop going and finish the crop and organize process. I had to reload all my 3,000 images from CS2. I upgraded WWW to Creative Cloud and took a daily brief on a new assignment and I did change my Photoshop actions, it seems to work great so far. I did run into a problem with Notepad and that is the program I use to type out my brief. Notepad does not start after the Creative Cloud Program Upgrade I tried to reinstall and could not get any luck. I had to uninstall and then reinstall and after trying to start Notepad it said no such program found. I had to open it first as the CS2 version then I was able to create a brief. Unfortunately I can not switch back to CS2 or I would do it.
